

PRODUCED BY THE AFRICAN NATIONAL CONGRESS

OUR TASKS IN THE CURRENT PERIOD: Unity, Renewal and Radical Socio-economic Transformation

THE 54th National Conference identified two focus areas for the ANC in the current period: to work towards organisational renewal and unity in order to restore the values and integrity of the ANC, and for radical socio-economic transformation, in order to speed up change in our country.

The meeting of the NEC therefore focused on these tasks – discussing the state of governance, particularly in municipalities and the service delivery protests; land reform and an agrarian revolution; economic transformation, building a capable state and the scourge of violence and crime. It also focused on organisational tasks, such as the renewal of mandates of regional and provincial executive committees throughout the country, as well as political education and communications. It was in this context that it adopted, as per conference resolutions, the ANC Programme of Action for 2018/2019.

#Thuma Mina campaign and a Capable State

The National Executive Committee recorded its grave concerns about the state of municipalities, as reflected in the 2017/2018 reports of the Auditor General and the Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs department (COGTA). It also discussed the growing spate of service delivery protests across the country.

Municipalities are at coal face of basic services to citizens, and the first line of interaction between the people and government. The ANC is the majority party in most municipalities, as well as official opposition in a number of metros. Our army of Mayors and Councillors must be more proactive in interacting with communities on immediate grievances, bringing those to the attention of Councils, and finding solutions to the challenges. They also have the responsibility to ensure that we safeguard good governance in municipalities, and that resources are used prudently to address the needs of local communities.

The National Executive Committee instructed its Officials and the Legislature and Governance Committee to urgently convene a meeting with relevant ANC Ministers, MECs and Mayors to adopt an immediate action plan and reporting template to strengthen the delivery of basic services and governance in municipalities, with consequence for non-action.

The NEC received a report on the #Thuma Mina campaign, an organisational initiative to mobilise ANC structures and citizens across all sectors to become proactive in fixing basic services in communities, working with their government. The #Thuma Mina campaign will see the first weekend of each month focussing on community problems, including gangsterism, gender-based violence, drugs and crime, and will be rolled out across the country. The NEC called on ANC structures, communities, professionals, unions, business to get involved.

The NEC also took note of the challenges in the public health system, and requested its Committee on Health and Education to urgently convene and present a report to the National Working Committee, with recommendations on interventions, in the context of the roll-out of the National Health Insurance and a comprehensive review of the state of our social security net. It also reaffirms its support for the Cooperation programme with the Cuban government on the training of South African doctors, as critical to ensure the availability of critical skills in building a health system for all our citizens.

ANC branches across the country are asked to strengthen, revive and form Health committees, working with doctors, nurses, NEHAWU members, NGOs and others in their communities, so that we can help monitor and improve primary health care in our communities.

The NEC affirmed 54th Conference and other resolutions about the importance of a capable developmental state, including a professional, committed and accountable public service, free of corruption and state capture, and committed to service to the people.

On Economic Transformation

The NEC welcomes the cautious signs of economic recovery, noticeable in first quarter growth figures, improvements in investor, rating agency and consumer confidence.

It however notes that the continued low levels of growth and investments need an economic recovery plan, as set out in the January 8 Statement, in order to tackle unemployment, poverty and inequality, and provide a conducive climate to take forward the structural transformation of the economy as a necessary condition for shared prosperity and inclusive growth.

The NEC instructed the Economic Transformation Committee (ETC) to urgently prepare a report on an Economic recovery plan, to make a submission on the ANC position on the Jobs and Investment Summits and an overarching approach on State Owned Enterprises, noting initial steps taken by government to address SOE challenges.

On Land Reform and Agrarian Revolution

The NEC adopted the recommendations on the implementation of its 54th Conference resolution on Land Redistribution proposed by the Consultative Land Summit/Workshop. It adopted and affirmed the following key approaches and commitments:

- ❑ To redouble efforts to fulfil the historic mission of land reform and redistribution to provide access to land to millions of dispossessed South Africans, to address the historical injustice of apartheid, colonialism and patriarchy.
- ❑ Notes that accelerated land redistribution and land reform, correctly implemented, will

DURING the Year of the Centenary celebrations of the birth of cde Nelson Mandela and Ma Albertina Sisulu, the ANC commits to honour their memory, by better service to the people and building caring communities. Amongst the targets we set for ourselves in the #Thuma Mina campaign are:

- ❑ Making the ANC a true agent for change that inspires people through positive actions and conduct.
- ❑ Strengthen the fight against crime and corruption everywhere.
- ❑ Campaigning against the abuse and ill-treatment of women, children and the elderly.
- ❑ Building caring, clean and safe communities together with the people.

- ❑ Enhancing all efforts to eliminate poverty, inequality and unemployment.

The ANC commits itself to work with all progressive forces within the country and the world, to build a more caring society, that respects and protects the rights and dignity of all human-beings.

assist in stimulating economic growth and development, reducing racial and gender inequalities, and transforming the lives of millions.

- ❑ Accelerated land reform is part of the wider nation-building project, to build a country that belongs to all and in which all South Africans, black and white, have a secure stake in our country's future.
- ❑ Re-affirms the ANC policy, which is geared towards a mixed approach to land ownership: state, private, communal as well as cooperative and other forms of ownership.
- ❑ That patriarchy and the triple oppression of black women, have also led to women's exclusion in land ownership, although they make up the majority of those who work the land. Our Land Reform and Agrarian Revolution must therefore also at its core, empower women.

The NEC instructed the Officials to establish a task team to urgently draft a Land Reform and Agrarian Revolution Implementation Plan, to give effect to the 54th Conference resolution, based on the workshop recommendations, focusing on the areas of Land redistribution; Land Restitution, Urban land and access; Communal land; Farm dwellers rights and tenure; and an Agrarian Revolution.

The ANC structures at all levels must intensify engagements with all stakeholders, including communities, municipalities, state owned entities, traditional leaders, private sector and other large landowners, farmers and property developers on the issues of land redistribution, as part of the nation-building project.

On Land Expropriation

The NEC adopts the comprehensive and multi-pronged approach to Section 25 of the Constitution as recommended by the Workshop, that is based on the following steps:

- (a) Immediately use Section 25 of the Constitution to press ahead with expropriation of land where we can, in order to test the argument that the Constitution does permit expropriation without compensation in certain circumstances.
- (b) Immediately pass the Expropriation Bill and Land Redistribution Bill in order to bring greater clarity to the transformative intent and impact of the Constitution.
- (c) Ensure that the Constitutional Review process is used to avoid ambiguity and to bring greater clarity to Section 25(2) (b) of the Constitution; if it is found that the current legal formulations impede or slow down effective land redistribution, the ANC must ensure the necessary amendments, in order to ensure the realization of the principle of expropriation without compensation as resolved at the 54th National Conference.

The NEC encourages broad-based participation of all South Africans, in the Constitutional Review Process (CRP), noting that to date over 200,000 have been made. The CRP will be holding public hearing throughout the country, starting end of June. It calls on all ANC structures to discuss these issues and to participate in the public hearings. The ANC will make its submission to the Constitutional Review Process, based on the NEC resolution and Land Workshop report.

The NEC also urged the President of the Republic to move swiftly on the appointment of an Expert Panel on Land Reform and Agrarian Revolution.

On Violence, Crime, Gender-based Violence

The NEC expressed its deep concerns about the still unacceptably high levels of violent crimes, and gender based violence, including femicide, the scourge of gangs and drugs, violence and discrimination against people living with albinism; as well as the recent spate of cash-in-transit heists and torching of trucks on the N4 AND N3.

It further expressed its dismay at the continued killings of mostly elderly women, alleged to be witches. It remains deeply alarmed by the criminal political killings within its ranks and in other parties, more recently in KZN and in Gert Sibande region in Mpumalanga. The NEC reiterates its heartfelt condolences to the families, loved ones and communities of all those affected. It instructed its deployees in government to make sure that the preparators are swiftly apprehended by the law enforcement agencies, and that communities are provided with the necessary security.

The ANC will, as part of its programme of Unity and Renewal, roll-out a political programme amongst its members to ensure tolerance, root out violence in its internal organisational processes, peaceful resolution to disputes and respect for the laws of the land.

ON ORGANISATIONAL MATTERS

The NEC adopted the annual ANC Organisational Plan of Action 2018/2019, focussing on implementation of 54th Conference resolutions, in the context of Unity and Renewal, and strengthening branches, regions, and province to drive transformation and change.

All BEC, RECs and PECs of the ANC are called upon to immediately discuss this POA for implementation, since they will be required to report back every quarter.

The NEC furthermore took the following organisational decisions:

1. Urged its regional and provincial structures whose mandates expired or are about to expire, to swiftly move towards the convening of their conferences, in a spirit of inclusion Unity and Renewal, so that they renew their mandates as required by the ANC Constitution, before the end of July 2018.
2. Takes note of the reports of its National Dispute Resolution Committee on problems in specific regions, and recommendations to resolve these organisational challenges, before convening conferences.
3. Notes the report from the SGO towards the implementation of a modern, inclusive ANC membership system, that will help to combat gatekeeping. Adopted the recommendation that during June–July, all branches will have an open day where members can check their membership status and provide with opportunity to renew their membership.
4. Adopted the National Political Education Plan as part of the heartbeat of the ANC, as central to its values, discipline, integrity and capacity for implementation, and the development of leadership, cadres and membership at all levels. Undertake Political education and discussions at all ANC meetings, especially at branch level, and schedule on monthly and quarterly basis political sessions (including study groups and night schools, in small groups) from branch to national level.

5. The NEC unanimously expressed commitment to the process of organisational stability and renewal across all provinces. Further convene a special NEC to consider this across all provinces, including the situations in North West, E Cape and the Free State, to ensure that all members can participate in the political life of the ANC.
6. Notes that the ANC Youth League is scheduled to have its National Congress in September 2018, and will support the League preparations, so that it can more effectively fulfil its mandate to champion the issues of young people in our society.
7. Adopted the ANC Communications Protocol, encouraging ANC members to be active on social media, in promoting transformation, the values, policies and programmes of the movement, and to do so in a disciplined manner. The Protocol will be popularised amongst our members.

On the Integrity Commission

As part of our collective efforts to restore the integrity and values of the movement, 54th National Conference strengthened the Integrity Commission, and instructed that it be appointed by June 2018. The NEC has distributed the draft Terms of Reference to all structures for inputs, by not later than 15 June 2018, after which it will formalise and appoint the Commission.

On National and Provincial Elections in 2019

The NEC also received and discussed its Elections campaign. It remains committed and resolved to work for a decisive victory in the 2019 national and provincial elections.

The ANC urges all its structures and other institutions to work with the Independent Electoral Commission to ensure that voters whose addresses have not been corrected to do so in the remaining few weeks, to continue the process of outreach to young voters and to other sectors who are not yet registered.

On International Matters

The NEC reaffirmed its commitment to its conference resolutions on the African agenda and Pan Africanism, encouraging South-South cooperation, noting preparations for the BRICS Summit and on solidarity with Western Sahara and Palestine.

The NEC supported the decision of government to withdraw its ambassador from Israel after the massacre of Palestinians during the transfer of the embassy to Jerusalem. The NEC confirmed its commitment to support all processes towards recognition of the rights of Palestinians, and a peaceful resolution to the conflict, in the context of a two-state solution.

AFRICAN NATIONAL CONGRESS

Annual Programme of Action

2018/2019

(As adopted by the NEC 26-28 May 2018)

TOWARDS UNITY, RENEWAL AND RADICAL SOCIO-ECONOMIC TRANSFORMATION

PRIORITIES AND PILLARS: 2017-2022

The 54th National Conference of the ANC held in December 2017, resolved on two strategic priorities towards the building of a National Democratic Society for the five years until next conference in 2022. These are:

- Organisational renewal and unity: restore the relationship between the ANC and the people, its integrity and role as agent for change and leader in society; and
- Radical socio-economic transformation: speeding up economic transformation; land and agrarian reforms; developmental, participatory and accountable governance, quality and universal basic services, and a better life for all South Africans.

Strategy and Tactics (2017) reaffirmed the five pillars of social transformation:

1. Organisational work;
2. the State;
3. the Economy;
4. Ideological struggle, and
5. International work.

The January 8 statement also gives specific tasks for the year in each of the five pillars.

Priority Targets: 2018/2019

For the period 2018/2019, the following 17 priority targets areas are proposed, based on the above and the NEC's January 8, 2018 statement:

1. Branches that are active in communities. (#Thuma Mina Campaign).
2. Branches that facilitate members participation in the life of the ANC, accountable.
3. Cadre development at all levels.
4. Regional and Provincial conferences to ensure legitimate leadership as per constitution.
5. Strengthen organisational values, discipline and integrity.
6. Membership system that is modern, credible and open.
7. Strengthened audit and reporting system for branches.
8. All conflicts managed swiftly.
9. Win a decisive majority and ensure credible elections.
10. Improved governance and advancing transformation.
11. Win support for transformation, progressive and values through the battle of ideas.
12. Advance the African agenda and International work.
13. Complete selection of MP/MPLs.
14. Support and Monitor implementation of plans: Organisational.
15. Monitoring of implementation of plans: Governance.
16. Modernise ANC systems and build coherence and capacity at HQ, Provinces and Regions to implement programme and support branches.
17. Finance and Fundraising.
